The POST this week announced another major expansion program, which includes the comunity of Marina in its circulation distribution area. Marina seemed like the most logical area for expansion of our newspaper, since it is the fastest grwing community on the peninsula.

In taking withold timers who remember the Sand Dunes and little gas stations, it is quite a contrast to see modern shopping centers and, of course, more modern gas stations. The majority of the new construction in the County is taking place in Marina.

Many of us on the peninsula would like to keep the place just like it was many years ago without the traffic and congestion problems that come with frowth, yet we must welcome the properity and employment that comes with that growth and, most of all, we must welcome the fact that there is a place to live. The vacancy factor in the county is so low-something like 0 to one percent vacancies. I know we just moved and had a heluva time finding a place and finally settled for an apartment. We have a full page ad in today's papet telling of the homes that are opening up in Drew Meadows built by developer Joe Tate and being marketed by Tri-City Real Estate. They will be beautiful and are located on the ocean side of Marina. Go out and take a look.

Speaking about advertisers we were able o get in the paper this week. Earl Moore's E's RANCH MILK AND MOHAWK Self Service Station have a good ad in this week's paper

Brewing Bolsters Farm Economy

The California brewing industry, which last year produced 8 percent of the total United States beer production, or more than 10 million barrels, continues to provide a ready cash market for golden state farmers.

According to figures released recently by George W. Ososke, executive vice presidents of the California Brewers Association, the state's 10 operating breweries last year purchased more than 444 million pounds of agricultural products having a cash value of more than $26 million.

With current beer production up 12.6 percent from last year, the 1970 market is expected to show a similar increase.

Malt, made from barley, is the primary agricultural product used by the brewers. Last year they purchased 280.9 million pounds having a value of $17.4 million.

Corn growers sold 109.8 million pounds to the brewers for $4.7 million while rice and hops producers each had sales of $1.5 million.

Sales of soybeans and other agricultural products amounted to approximately $1 million to make up the grand total.

Red Cross Volunteers Are Needed

Ladies with spare time and big hearts will be welcomed with open arms by Miss Dorothy Welker, Fort Ord Hospital Red Cross Field Director and Mrs. Fariss Hardin, Chairman of the Red Cross Volunteers, if they would like to join the Red Cross Volunteers.

A telephone call to Miss Welker or Mrs. Hardin will start the ball rolling.

Such ladies will be given an appointment for an interview and, if qualified, will be enrolled for an orientation class which is the beginning of their Red Cross service.

The class will take place on Wednesday, September 23, at the Main Post Chapel. It will begin at 9:30 am and end at 2:30 pm.

Ladies who are interested in this good work should call well before that date in order to be enrolled in the class.

When this six hour course is completed, the new Volunteers will be all set to don the blue and white striped uniform of the Red Cross Lady Volunteer and do a good deed for the hospitalized soldier and the staff tending them.

Volunteer Red Cross workers make themselves invaluable in all sorts of ways. They assist in the pharmacy, they plump pillows, dispense sympathy and assist in room calls -- all sorts of interesting and worthwhile jobs.

Any time that can be donated by local ladies, from the age of eighteen up, will be much appreciated. It need not be long hours that they put in; they can select their own time and days to help at the hospital. However, it must be regularly scheduled so that Mrs. Welker and her Red Cross Staff can know when volunteers can be counted upon.

Mrs. Hardin, Chairman of the Volunteers, is the wife of the Chief of Staff of the Army Combat Developments Command Experimentation Command at Fort Ord and an enthusiastic leader in this work.

She will be happy to give further information on the program to those interested, as will Miss Welker. Their telephone numbers are: Miss Welker, 242-3525; Mrs. Hardin, 242-5429. Call soon, for the orientation class is on September 23d.

Talcott to Press For Farm Bill

Congressman Burt Talcott (California, 12th District) called for immediate hearings on his bill, H.R. 19023, the Consumer-Agricultural Protection Act of 1970.

Warning that time is of he essence, Talcott said, "the disruption of the harvest and orderly flow of agricultural products from the farm to the comsumer is wasteful, costly and injurious to the farmer, farmworkers and most importantly the consumers."

Terming strikes and lockouts outmoded and barbaric techniques for solving problems in a civilized society, Talcott said he will press for swift consideration of his bill.

"Obviously an entirely different legal and administrative mechanism -- other than the one presently used in settlement of industrial disputes -- is necessary for the settlement of disputes in agriculture and the food processing industry." Talcott said.

The key feature of Talcott's bill is the establishment of a Board of Arbitration.

The five man Board of Arbitration would include one representarive designated by labor and one representative by management; these two would then jointly select three other neutral members. This Board would assist the parties in reaching a fair settlement of the dispute. If the dispute is not settled within 30 days, the Board would publicly announce the offer of each party which is most favorable to the other party. If the dispute is not settled within five days thereafter, the Board will designate the proposal which it considers the more reasonable (not a compromise of the two). The designated proposal will immediately become the agreement of the parties and subject to enforcement by the law.

"This new legal mechanism will permit the parties to bargain freely; it will provide strong incentive for the parties to bargain promptly and reasonably.

"Union representation, collective bargaining and all other benefits and privileges of the conventional labor-management relations are available and encouraged -- excepting the strike and lockout," Talcott concluded.

Who Cares

Mel Vercoe

Brazil's death squads have run into some trouble. "Death squads" are made up of off-duty law officers who take the law into their own hands, without benefit of courts, and rather efficiently execute criminals who have been able to avoid punishment in the courts.

In the last ten years these squads have executed roughly one thousand known criminals. Their methods are not gentle by U. S. standards. They torture by fire or beating, then strangle and shoot their victims, most of whom by then must have second thoughts about how to earn a living.

At times, things got so hot for criminals in some cities that they migrated to other cities, which brought complaints of ungairness. Last April some humanitarian police officers established "Life Squads" in the hope they could place endangered criminals in protective custody and save them for some reason or another.

Now the government of Brazil has found witnesses willing to testify against 19 death squad members. Personally, I would not care to write a long term life insurance policy for any of the witnesses.

Brazil, about the size of the U. S., has about half as many people and has crime problems for about the same reason as we have - poverty, permissiveness, apathy, misplaced priorities and so on.

The frustrations of police officers trying to maintain law and order in the face of such obstacles, then would be about the same in Brazil as in America, except that in Brazil the police do not have to fight off an organization that is openly dedicated to kill them at every opportunity. This threat we do have here in America, and it is not inconceivable that law officers here, for self-preservation if for no other reason, might very well be forced to meet this challenge by using the same methods that are being used against them.

This, of course, would be as illegal here as it is in Brazil. On the other hand, picture yourself as a police officer who knows the identity of one or more individuals who have obtained weapons and have plainly indicated that they will shoot you the first

Standards Discussed

Standards for judging the true value and substantiality of the things mankind desires are set forth in the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" to be read in all three Christian Science churches on the Monterey Peninsula, on Sunday, September 13.

One of the Bible quotations is from Paul's letter to Timothy, in which he wrote, "Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not highminded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy."

A citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of christian science, reads: "To himself, mortal and material man seems to be substance, but his sense of substance involves error and therefore is material, temporal. On the other hand, the immortal, spiritual man is really substantial and reflects the eternal substance or Spirit, which mortals hope for. He reflects the divine, which constitutes the only real and eterna entity."

All are welcome to attend services beginning at 11:00 a.m.

It's War! Get In Gear!

About 70 million housewives indulge in chemical warfare.

"Chemical warfare" is what Consumer Reports calls oven cleaning.

The proper combat gear in fighting oven grime should include protective gloves, goggles and a mask or damp cloth to cover the mouth and nose, says the consumer magazine.

All chemical oven cleaners warrant personal protective measures, says a current article, which adds that caustic cleaners can damage clothing, floors and other surfaces.

Flooring should be protected by paper. Aluminum surfaces are highly vulnerable, but copper somewhat less so. The magazine notes that a copper-tone finish may mean an aluminum stove. Electrical connections, copper temperature sensing devices and the like should be shielded from the cleaner.

"The key to an oven cleaner's effectiveness appears to be heat, which you supply by bringing oven temperatures up to 200 degrees Fahrenheit," says the magazine.

Three oven cleaners tested in room-temperature ovens -- according to label instruction -- were considered ineffectual by Consumers Union, the non-profit product-testing organization which publishes Consumer Reports.

Two other cleaners which offer the option of "warm" or "cold" cleaning worked well in a heated oven but failed otherwise.

One oven cleaner was rated Not Acceptable by the consumer-advisory organization because it made itself so offensive.

"The product, a 14-ounce can of dry chemicals, generates enormous volumes of choking ammonia fumes when boiling water is poured into the can." Consumer Reports says.

Computer Is Sought By State Parks

State Parks and Recreation Director William Penn Mott, Jr., has announced that the requests for proposals put out by his department for a computerized reservation system have resulted in a number of interesting responses.

"These are currently being studied," Mott said, "and if all goes well we should have a system ready in 1971 whereby the public can make reservations by computer as far ahead as 90 days for state park campsites and Hearst Monument tours."

The proposal requests were sent to some 50 computer firms throughout the country and specified that the contractor provide a network of outlets conveniently located in population centers around the state. Specific locations would be left up to the contractor, but the department will operate outlets as its Sacramento headquarters.

Earlier this year the department was operating a computerized reservation system under contract.

Famous Duo To Reunite At Festival

"Slim and Slam", the musical designation recognized by jazz fans for the indefatigable duo, Slim Gaillard and Slam Stewart, will be reunited after many years at the Monterey Jazz Festival, September 18, 19, 20.

The two -- Slim on guitar and vocals -- Slam on bass, plus Milt Buckner on piano and Jo Jones on drums, will be featured in the Saturday evening (September 19) concert of the three-day, five concert jazz annual.

Other artists who will perform that evening are: Woody Herman and his Orchestra, the Cannonball Adderley Quintet and vocalist, Joe Williams.

The reuniting of Slim and Slam will remind jazz fans of such Gaillard gem-like compositions as "Flat Foot Floogie" and "Cement Mixer, Putty Putty."

Gaillard will also be remembered as the man who added such colorful expressions as "macvouty" and "orooney" to the jazz lexicon. He memorialized these and other sometimes unfathomable expressions in his "Be-Bop Dictionary" published in the forties.

Gaillard and Stewart formed their famous duo in 1938 and were an enormously popular attraction for a number of years.

Stewart is known for augmenting contra bass artistry with a vocal hum which he sings softly in sequence to his plucked bass. After Gaillard joined the Army in the mid-forties, Stewart toured with the Art Tatum Trio and the Benny Goodman Band. In the late 40's he formed his own trio with Billy Taylor and Johnny Collins.

Pianist Milt Buckner was with the Lionel Hampton Band from 1941 to 1948 and again from 1950 to 1952. He gained fame as Hampton's Boogie Woogie soloist and was the originator of the "locked hands" style of jazz piano. Since 1952 he has played organ with his own trio.

Jo Jones studied music for 12 years and was an accomplished musician on trumpet, saxaphone and piano before he took up drumming. He has played with Count Basie, Illinois Jacquet, Lester Young and Joe Bushkin and toured Europe with Ella Fitzgerald and Oscar Peterson in 1957. In 1956 he won the Downbeat Critics Poll.

For information on the Monterey Jazz Festival write P.O. Box JAZZ, Monterey, California, 93940, or telephone (408) 373-3366. Tickets are also on sale at the ABC Music Store, 409 Alvarado Street, Monterey, (408) 373-1822; Gadsby's Music Store, 342 Main Street, Salinas, (408) 424-6421, and Carmel Music Store, Dolores and Sixth, Carmel, (408) 624-9695.

The expansion of the Seaside POST and news-Sentinel (now knows as the MARINA NEWS-SENTINEL) takes in some other areas besides Marina. The Post from this issue on will serve the entire city of Del Rey Oaks and the surrounding Montery are around the intersection of Del Rey Oaks Boulevad and Fremont Boulevard.

We will also mail newspapers on Thursday to every home in La Mesa Village (Naval Housing) and the Presidio. This again was a logical expansion since we were already serving the entire Front Ord civilian housing on POST with the POST which included the classified page known as "The Peddler". Our military people really use the "Peddler" to buy and sell almost everything.

We're really quite pround of ourselves. We started just a little over a year ago with the POST. Our intention was to give the city of Seaside a newspaper that gave coverage to all segments of the community- military, black, white and all others. At that time we had a criculation of just under 6000. In June of this year we acquired the Seaside NEWS-SENTINEL with its companion publications "THE PEDDLER" , which was circulated in the Fort Ord Civilian housing area. We expanded the paper to 10,000 circulation and gave the Fort Ord readers a full- fledged newspaper.

We believe that it has been successful, or at leat our advertisers seem satisfied that they are getting results from this added circulation. Now we will expand, as I mentioned, to all of the rest of the military housing on the peninsula and include the Navy at La Mesa Village and the homes in the Presidio. Taking in all of the city Of Del Rey Oaks and part of the Monterey area we will now circulate 15,000 copies of the POST AND NEWS-SENTINEL. We want to thank our readers for their continued support of our advertisers, who make it possible to put out the POST

I received a letter from my daughter, Carol on her 21st birthday, September 1st and it carried such a beautiful message that I just have to pass it on to you. She sent me this quote from a book called "1,000 Beautiful Things" an article by Henry Frederic Amiel, On Youth

"The whole secret of remaining young in spite of years and even of grey hairs, is to cherish enthusiasm in oneself, by Poetry, by Contemplation by Charity, that is, in fewer words, by the maintenance of Harmony in the Soul. When everything is in its right place within us, we ourselves are in equilibrium with the whole work of God. Deep and grave enthusiasm for the Eternal Beauty and the Eternal Order. Reason touched with emotion and a serene tenderness of heart, these are surely the foundations of Wisdom."

Letter to Editor

Editor:

Iwas very pleased to read that the great admirer of Adolph Hitler, Vice President Ky of South Vietnam, has accepted radio preacher Carl McIntire invitation to make a suitable speech at a huge pro-war rally in Washington, D.C.

As a long-time advocate of better communications and understanding between nations, I believe this rally will be a historic milestone in our civilization's unending drive toward its goals, most of which are not very clearly defined at this time.

Hopefully, for a hundred years, our school children will look with pride at pictures in their history books of Reverend McIntire and Vice President Ky smiling at each other as Ky tells America why the war's continuance is important to him and the good Reverend McIntire assures the world that God is on our side in this great and glorious slaughter of fellow human beings as our vast air, ground and sea armadas enter the second decade of this modern day Crusade to wipe out the obviously bad, uncapitalistic farmers (infidels) in sotheast Asia, along with their families, property and livestock.

Rally sponsors predict a half million cheering spectators will attend. I wish that I could be there. I might even get a glimpse of our own remarkable Vice President, whom I have never seen, although I have read of him in the newspapers.

Steve Ross Reports

Now that the city Counsil is settling down, we are hoping to get going on some projects that will help the people of our city and move our city forward.

One such project is our planned Recreation Department. For the first time in the history of this city, we hope to develop a complete funtioning Recreation Department; under the direct control of the city of Seaside.

At our last meeting I proposed that the City Manager be authorized to apply to the California Commission on Ageing for agrant to assist in developing and coordinating Senior Citizens program in the city of Seaside. Although it calls for some matching funds, we can provide our share basically through services. This will help our (already strained budget) department in developing a well-rounded parks and recreational program for our city.

We need a REAL WIZRD to put together, and direct our irst real recreation program. He must be some one who can win friends and influence people with many different views and backgrounds. He must be some one who can get along well with the Monterey Unified School District, and other agencies in the area. (If any one know of any wizards in this field, or if you feel "WIZARDY"), please get in touch with the CITY MANAGER OF THE CITY OF you feel "WIZARDY", please time they get you in their gunshights.

You would have some choises. You could quit your job. You could move to another city and hope conditions were different. You could pray. You could say goodbye each time you leave your home, in case you don't live to see your family again. And if none of these choices looked attractive, you might very well be tempted to look into the Brazilian method.

This is a problem that is deadly serious to police officers, but is of only mild interest to the average, apthetic plain citizen, because this average citizen has not yet been designated as a legitimate moving target by an organization determined to eradicate all law enforcement in the United States.

Thus we find ourselves facing the strong possibility of having to choose between a police state and no law at all, between vigilante type justice and murder without punishment. It is surprising that such an advanced civilization as we pretend to be cannot arrive at a warkable c

While Art Carney is a watch collector, he's the first to admit that he's no expert; "I don't know how to take them apart and Icouldn't begin to put them back together again. All i know is that Ilike them. Why do I like them? I don't know, really. I'm governed by time in my business. As an actor, you sometimes have to work at some pretty odd hours, and I always like to be on time."

Writes to President

The Reverend William Matheus, assistant minister of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in St. Louis, said in a recent letter to President Nixon that "while a succession of church personalities supporting the status quo have been seen spotlighted in the White House pulpit, there is still an ever-increasing number of Christian cynics who have given up on the church, and are leaving in great numbers."

MONTEREY PENINSULA COTILLION LEAGUE

With pride and pleasure the Monterey Peninsula Cotillion League sponsored a delightful evening of fun, fashion and dancing on August 30 at the Outrigger on Cannery Row.

The well selected fashions were modeled by 1970 debutants; Pamela Green, Maurya Mann, Charlotte Palmer and Sandi Scott; 1971 Debs, Linda Beene, Rita Burden, Jean Drummond, Lydia Hamptron, Marietta Hubbard, Demetria Hunter and Melva Watts. Guest professional model of San Francisco was Sigrid Burden, formally of Seaside, who is also seen frequently on TV commercials.

Coordinator of fashion show was Mrs. William Watts. Under her professional guidance, each model appeared in a smooth conceted way, wearing smart looking, prevailing styles. Male attendats to assist each model on and off spaced drums were William Harris and William Watts, II.

Narrators for the show were Mrs Maurice Mann and Mrs Helyn Mitchell, who were kept busy giving complete descriptions of various garments, which were compliments of FASHIONS, Del Monte Shopping Center. Boots and shoes to compliment the fashions were provided by of SOMMER AND KAUFMANN, also of Del Monte Shopping Center.

Two students of Fredricas' of Seaside, Kevin Parker, 15 years old and Gloria Ganaden, 16 years, designed and made an exquisite four piece otfit, which was modeled by Maurya Mann.

Following the fashion show, a large crwod danced and enjoyed the music privided by The King Taylor Conspiracy, featuring the Pure Essence.

Big Grants Ford Makes

The Ford Foundation recently announced special appropriations for studies related to the administration of justice and the integrity of the processes of the law.

Among its first grants are these:

* NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., $200,000;
* National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Special Contribution Fund, $200,000.

The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. will use a portion of its grant for studies in the adminstration of justice, with emphasis on the system of corrections and capital punishment. Jack Greenberg, the fund's director-counsel, will be in charge of the studies.

A $1 million grant was made to the fund by the Foundation in 1967 to establish the National Office for the Rights of the Indigent (NORI). Since then, the NORI legal staff has initiated action in approximately 100 major cases, civil and criminal, in the long-neglected field of poverty law. Test cases have covered consumer protection, welfare, public housing, garnishment of wages, and equalization of municipal services.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which is not connected with the NAACP Legal Defense Fund will use its grant for a task force to assess the practices in the administration of justice which have given rise to a lack of confidence in the system by blacks. The task force will be headed by Nathaniel Jones, general counsel of the NAACP.

Who Tells Whom About Birds, Bees?

Where do teenagers learn about the birds and the bees or, to say it another way, the "secrets" of sex?

Not, apparently, from their parents, according to a recent Purdue University Poll of 1,000 teenagers.

Education USA, published by the National School Public Relations Association, in its recent 48-page special report on "Sex Education in Schools," gave the following statistics from the Purdue poll:

* The majority of teenagers (53 percent of the boys and 42 percent of the girls) "got the word" from their friends.
* Ffiteen percent reported they "pieced things together" from TV, movies, books, pornographic and a variety of such sources.
* Six percent received sex instruction in school.
* Seven percent were advised by adults other than parents.
* Mom and/or Dad got credit for informing only 15 percent of the boys and 35 percent of the girls about sex.

"The reasons," says Education USA, "are not hard to understand. Many present-day parents were brought up in an era when sex was still talked about in hushed tones or snickers. If they asked their parents about babies, they did not receive straightforward answers. And subjects like intercourse, masturbation, 'wet dreams,' homosexuality, were simply unmentionable--especially 'in front of the children.'"

Magazine To Award Scholarship

The New Christian Digest has announced that it will award a $500 college scholarship to an outstanding black Christian high school boy or girl in the fall of this year.

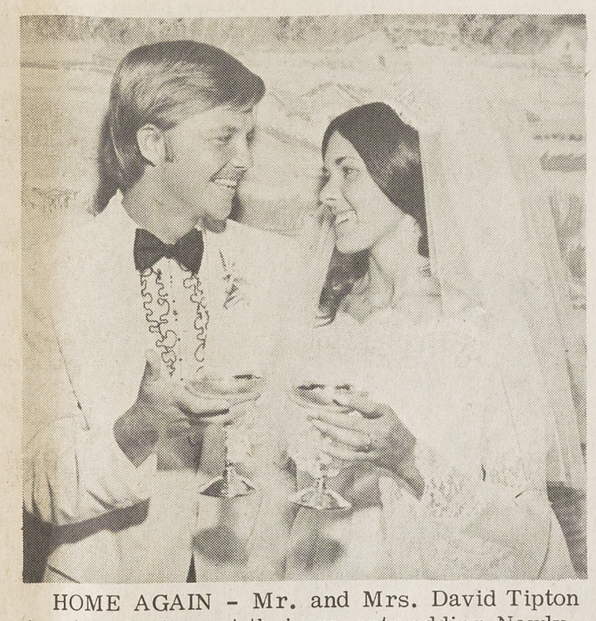
The announcement was made by Rev. Willie White, publisher of the nationally circulated magazine for black churches.

Rev. White said the scholarship is open to students on a nationwide hasis and is designed to fullfill two goals, one of which is to increase the nationwide subscription of the New Christian Digest within the black religious community, the other to "increase the educational opportunities available to our black youth."

To become a candidate for the scholarship a student must send in seven one-year subscriptions to the New Christian Digest and a detailed evaluation of himself as a Christian worker, including why he believes he should be awarded the scholarship.

The selected student will be awarded the $500 scholarship over a five-semester period, beginning with the spring semester of 1971 or whenever the selected student enters college thereafter.

For more information, students may write to the digest scholarship fund, P.O. Box 6233, Waco, Texas 76706.



HOME AGAIN - Mr. and Mrs. David Tipton toast each other at their recent wedding. Newlyweds have recently returned to their home in San Jose, following honeymoon in Washington and Oregon. Both will be students at San Jose State College in fall. Bride is former Dorita Jean Jud.

NURSING STUDENT SWORN IN

Patricia Ayers Mahone's goal to become an Army nurse was doubly inspired. Her father, Colonel Worthington Mahone, Special Assistant to the Deputy Chief of Staff for ments Command Experimentation Command at Fort Ord, inspired het to belong to the Army; her mother, a registered nurse, was her inspiration in selecting that profession.

She has almost reached her goal. The last lap began when Miss Mahone became Private First Class Mahone. Two years from now, upon completion of her two years of training under the Army Nurse Corps Program, she will be Second Lieutenant Mahone. It will then be "mission accomplished."

The Army Nurse Corps accepts girls with a talent for nursing and pays for their last two years of training. The new nurses are commissioned at graduation. They must then serve a minimum of three years as Army nurses.

The new PFC Mahone was oriented toward a nursing careet during hich school. After completing her first year in the University of Nevada's School of Nursing, she transferred to the University of Maryland. She will return to its Baltimore campus, where the University Hospital is located, for her two years of training under the Army Nurse Corps Progam.

The special enlistment ceremonies were held at CDCEC Headquarters. Col Mahone administered the oath. Also present was Colonel Leda E. Jelinek, Head Nurse of the Fort Ord Army Hospital.

CRAFT EXHIBIT

A new art exhibit is now open for viewing in the Post Crafts Shop Art Gallery, following the previous one by Wayne Howard. The present artist, SP4 Larry Knutson, at Fort Ord on his military tour of duty, is from Malta, Montana. He is the instructor in the Sculpture Shop in the Crafts Complex.

SP4 Knutson's interest in the arts began during his childhood and continued throughout his college carrer. He received his BA in 1968 from the University of Montana. Until he entered military service he was actively engaged in the sculpting field, developing large steel and wood sculptures on commission for the University of Montana, the Malta Lutheran Church and other art items for private collections.

SP4 Knutson works in other art media as well as metal. His talents include pencil portraits and drawings, painting, original jewelery and craft items of varied materials such as macrame hagings.

All are invited to view this delightful art work now showing at the Post Crafts Shop, Building 2250, 8th St. and 2nd Ave through September 15, Wednesday through Friday, 1 P.M. to 10 P.M. Saturday 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. and Sunday 1 P.M. to 5 P.M.

In a farewell gesture to the West Coast DLI, Dr. Vesel presented the school's academic library with a seven-volumn Serbo-Croatian encyclopedia and 15 books about the language, history and geography of his people.

Test Your Memory

How many can remember (sorry, kids) the theme songs of bands such as Fletcher Henderson, Chick Webb, Andy Kirk, Don Redman, Jeter Pillars, Cab Calloway, Jimmie Lunceford, Claude Hopkins, Blanche Calloway, Willie Bryant, Fats Waller and Fess Williams?

In order, theme songs were: "Christopher Columbus," "Let's Get Together," "Until the Real Thing Comes Along," with "Clouds" as closing theme; "Chant of the Weed," "Lazy Rhythm," "Minnie the Moocher," "White Heat," "I Would Do Most Anything For You," "Gorwlin' Dan," "It's Over Because We're Through," "Ain't Misbehavin'," and "Make Me Know It."

MAN-MADE

Barro Colorado Island, once a mountaintop, was formed in 1914 when the Chagres River was dammed to create Gatun Lake during the construction of the Panama Canal.

As the waters rose over a four-year period, every animal scampered to safety on a hill top area 537 feet above sea level. Today, this man-made "Jungle Island" is three miles wide and covers almost 4000 acres in area with an irregular 30-mile coastline.

Kids Create Their Own Things

Racing minds and busy hands have been put to good use building, fitting and glueing masterpieces in wood sculpture at Del Monte Shopping Center's "Glue-In!"

It's a creative and challenging activity where children up to the age of 12 delight in the self-satisfaction of personal achievement.

The kids provide the imagination and enthusiasm, while the center provides every size, shape and variety of wood material together with oodles of glue!

The "Glue-In" is FREE and is open to children to 12 years of age at Del Monte Shopping Center, Thursday, September 3 thru Saturday, September 5 from 12 noon to 6 p.m. and Sunday, September 6, from 12 noon to 5 p.m.

Laguna Seca Appoints PR Man

The Monterey-Castrol Grand Prix is almost here!

Laguna Seca's facilities are being readied in anticipation of October 16, 17 and 18. As part of that preparation, the Raceway announced the appointment of Richard L. Hughett to transact the track's public relations.

Don Wester, president of the Sports Car Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula (SCRAMP), explained that the increasing business of the track has created the need for additional help for Bob Hugill, SCRAMP's business manager.

"At present, our main concern is the Can-Am in October," Wester said, "the biggest event of the racing season, with a purse of over $61,500, and a field of the world's fastest sports cars."

Hughett, a native of California, comes to Laguna Seca with varied experience in race promotion and production, having worked with the San Francisco Jaycees on road racing projects since 1965. His most recent position was that of press aide for State Senator Milton Marks of San Francisco.

Choral Group To Perform

On October 17, the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society and Monterey County Symphony will perform Beethoven's "Missa Solmenis" at Carmel Mission Basilica under the baton of Haymo Taeuber.

The performance will be part of the Bicentennial Celebration and in honor of Beethoven's 200th birthday.

The Choral Society rehearses every Wednesday evening at Fremont Junior High School from 7:00 P.M. to 10:00 P.M.

For additional information, write the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society, Box 171, Carmel or call Mr. Raymond Coffey at 372-8729.

SPLIT PERSONALITY

Liberia is a country with a split personality. English-speaking Americo-Liberians, descendants of the freed American slaves who settled in 1822 and formed Africa's first republic in 1847, remain in power. They contrast in both life-style and affluence with the tribal people who make up 90 per cent of the population and live mainly at a primitive subsistence level.

Trouble-Free Sports Car

More and more car owners are discovering that it's possible to have your cake and eat it too- at least where cars are concerned.

They are the ones who want all the advantages of a racy sports car and none of its drawbacks.

Astute car-buyers solve this dilemma when they decide on a VW Karmann Ghia.

They get a racy, hand-finished body, four-speed stick shift, and bucket seats with built-in headrests and seat belts.

They also get four-wheel independent torsion bar suspension, a double-jointed rear axle and a light engine, made of aluminum and magnesium, that is located where it does the most good--in the rear pressing down on the wheels for extra traction.

They get a steering wheel that is so maneuverable it can be rotated lock to lock in only 2.7 turns, which means it corners, whips through traffic and darts along a winding dirt road without skidding or wallowing or wishing it was somewhere else.

Other sports cars require specialized service which can add substantially to the original cost.

But the fortunate owner of a Karmann Ghia finds the nearest Volkswagen dealer and has his car serviced by a Volkswagen specialist with genuine VW parts.

He gets the first four diagnoses for free, also the first maintenance plus a ranty.

Because the engine doesn't change much from year to year, anything that needs doing presents no new complications. For example, it takes only 75 minutes to remove and put back the whole engine. Replacing and adjusting the carburetor is a 36-minute operation. Little problems, thanks to the VW diagnosis system, can be spotted before they become big and costly.

For instance, compression in one cylinder may be off by as little as 7 percent. It doesn't sound like much, but it can reduce gas mileage and cause spark plugs to foul. The disgnostic instruments can detect compression deficiencies much lower than 7 percent, which means that minor problem never has a chance to become a major one.

The Karmann Ghia's undemanding four-cylinder engine gets up to 27 miles per gallon without frequent or costly tune-ups. It uses about five pints--not quarts--of oil. It rarely asks for oil between changes.

Its air-cooled engine enables its owner to save on anti-freeze. And the water it doesn't use can't freeze up or boil over, which can save considerable aggravation.

The less a car owner has to be concerned about what is inside his car, the more he can enjoy the way it looks and the way it feels.

The way it looks is the result of an unconventional, limited production line in the Karmann Coachworks in Osnabruck, Germany, where artisans made coaches for European nobility a century ago.

The same kind of sculpturing is used on the Karmann Ghia where 16 sculptors create the graceful, sloping lines that machines can't. They take pride in what happens at the corners of the windshield or the gentle curve of the rear.

The intricate curves around the headlights don't just happen. Coachmakers make each front fender in two parts and then weld them together by hand. Each fender is shaped by hand and welded to the body by hand.

Finishing consists of four coats of anti-corrosives, primers and paint, with lots of rubbing and sanding inbetween.

Then, when everything has been done with care and precision, the inspectors go to work. Fussy men with sensitive fingers - 240 men wearing mittens over their 2,400 fingers - run their hands along the finished bodies searching for the tiniest of imperfections.

Another 16 Volkswagen inspectors are kept busy inspecting the Karmann inspectors.

On a good day, only 120 Karmann Ghias leave the factory. And each one is a tribute to the fussing and fidgeting of the many men whose combined skills and pride in craftsmanship resulted in the kind of car that lets its owner have his cake--and eat it, too.

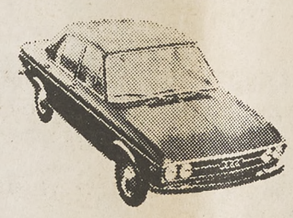
Just one thing has kept the Audi from being the most talked-about car of the year.

It's only been around a few months.



If you are buying a car between $3000 and $4000, please test drive the Audi. It turns like a racing car, rides like a limousine and gives up to 26 miles to a gallon of gas.

Save On Insurance

Shopping for auto insurance could reward you with savings of as much as 30 percent.

The identical motorist could pay widely varying prices for his insurance with different companies, says Consumer Reports. Its July-issue report on techniques of price comparison tells how to get the best auto-insurance buy.

As an example of how prices vary, the magazine says the lowest premium classification for a 45-year-old man buying a small liability and property-damage policy in a 1968 Georgia survey ranged from $35 to $83. Thus, the same man buying an identical policy could fall anywhere in a price spread of 237 percent.

A Jacksonville, Florida, survey showed a range from $78 to $264 for the same hypothetical motorist buying roughly the same liability and medical-payments policy, a spread of 339 percent.

Even eliminating the three highest prices because they were probably high-risk companies, the spread still comes to 60 percent, says the magazine.

It explains the reason for the price spread is that while almost all insurance companies will put you through the same sort of rating mill, they will not by any means grind out identical prices.

Car insurance prices vary so widely from company to company that Consumer Reports says you could cut your insurance bill by as much as 30 percent or more by careful shopping. A three-step shopping method is suggested:

First, draw up specifications to present to the insurance companies or their agents.

Second, ask a number of good companies for prices based on your specifications.

Third, select a company and a policy that best suit your needs.

The considerations in pricing insurance include liability and property-damage limits, medical payments coverage, uninsured motorists coverage, collision coverage, comprehensive, and towing and other trimmings.

But premiums are not the whole story, according to Consumer Reports. What about the quality of the service in return for your premiums? In its issue now on sale the magazine recapitulates its June-issue ratings of 24 insurance companies as judged by the service they render customers.

The magazine suggests checking the ratings, preferably the detailed listing in June by going to your library, to help narrow the field in shopping for a company.

"You may also want to price the policies of one or more other companies too small to have shown up in our survey, but with an outstanding reputation in your community," notes the magazine.

The quality ratings were based on more than 230,000 responses to a subscriber questionnaire. Consumer Reports, with a circulation nearing 1.9 million, is the monthly publication of the nonprofit Consumers Union, the independent consumer-advisory organization.

Despite possible savings by switching companies, the magazine warns that some people should probably hang on to their present policy. It says "don't switch" if your company has paid a liability claim against you of $100 or more in the last three years; if you have had a number of smaller liability claims; a large, or several small claims recently under the collision, comprehensive or medical provisions of your own policy.

The magazine notes that a new company may accept you at first, but cancel within a couple of months on the basis of further investigation. It adds that the best time to apply to a new company is about 60 days before your old policy is due to expire.

WAC Officer Home

It's a real "homecoming" for First Lieutenant Natalie T. Danforth, newly arrived officer of the Women's Army Corps, recently assigned here to the Army Combat Developments Command Experimentation Command at Ford Ord. Monterey is her hometown; and her new command doesn't seem new at all, since her father, retired Lt. Colonel Ed Traugott, was CDCEC's Information Officer a few years back.

Also her mother is a civilian employee in the Fort Ord Education Center, so the Post as well as the Peninsula is "home" to her.

Lieutenant Danforth has been assigned to the Office of CDCEC's Deputy Chief of Administration / Logistics as Chief of its Administrative Services and is busy getting comfortable in her new job.

It is her first military assignment, having just completed the Officer Basic/Candidate Course at the WAC Center on Fort McClellan, Alabama. There she was named "Distinguished Graduate" upon her completion of the training.

Before entering the service, she was employed at the Defense Language Institute at the Presidio of Monterey in its Information Office before accepting another position near Phoenix, Arizona at the Indian Reservation at Fort McDowell. There she was associated with Girls Scouts USA and there also she met her husband, a teacher of Biology and Wild Life Conservation. He is Douglas W. Danforth, currently teaching at Martin Luther King High School in Seaside.

Her sister Martha attended Seaside High School and Monterey Peninsula College, but Lieutenant Natalie got most of her schooling at other places around the globe including Frankfurt and Munich, Germany. Her Monterey home is now at 724 Casa Nova -- though there's plenty of visiting with her parents on her former home with them at 845 Lily Street.

Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Traugott are glad to have their daughter home for a while and the Colonel is mighty proud, too, that one of his two daughters is following in his military footsteps since he had no son.

Sneak preview of next year's Volkswagen sedan.

*Suggested retail price West Coast P.O.E.

Local taxes and other dealer delivery charges, if any, additional.

(Low Cost Lease Purchase Plan Available)

If you just bought this year's VW sedan, congratulations.

Next year nobody will know you're not driving next year's VW sedan.

Because next year's beetle will look like this year's beetle. (What else?) And every other beetle we've ever made.

So it will be just as hard to tell a 20-year-old VW from a brand new VW.

Buying a car that doesn't go out of style has still another benefit: you don't take a beating when you sell it.

A VW depreciates very slowly.

But even though next year's Volkswagen won't be different, it will be different.

We've made some nice improvements. As usual. (Over 2200 since 1949.)

So in next year's VW you can look forward to a new ——— and a bigger ———and a different—

Well, you wouldn't want us to give away all our little secrets, would you?

What kind of sneaky preview would that be?

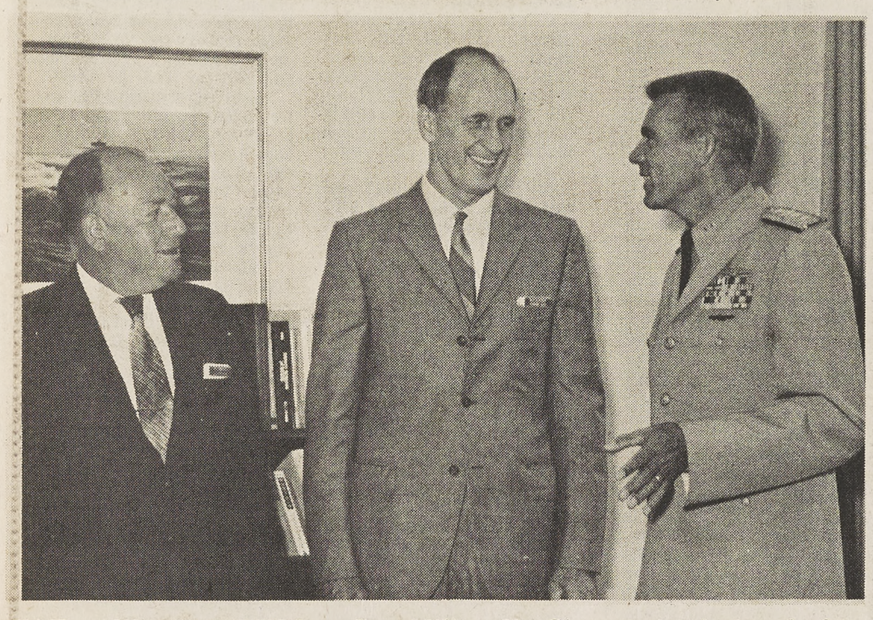
WHO DONE IT?

Of the myriads of animals which have existed since the beginning of biological time, only a few, such as the dinosaurs, mastodons and saber-tooth tigers, were eliminated by natural causes.

BIGGEST ENEMY

Not until 1600 A.D., did scientists begin to keep some kind of accurate count, and it was about this time, that animals encountered their No. 1 enemy -- man -- on a large scale.



HAIL AND FAREWELL-- Dr. Milton U. Clauser (center), who has just become sixth Academic Dean at Naval Postgraduate School, is welcomed by Rear Admiral Robert W. McNitt (right) and Dr. Robert F. Rinehart, who held top civilian position at school for 5 years. As Academic Dean Dr. Clauser will head 250-mancivilian faculty and supervise academic programs. He came to Monterey from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he was director of Lincoln Laboratories. Dr. Rinehart, who retired from federal service this week, will remain on Peninsula (Navy Photo)

Fair Will Feature Families

The 1970 Santa Cruz County Fair will be a 100-percent family affair.

For family members from eight months to 80 years there will be special events designed to appeal to each age group promises Ed Pico, special events director.

This year's fair will be held from September 16 through 20.

For the youngsters of the family Pio this week announced a contest for babies who are less than one year old on September 17. It's a resumption of the diaper derby, popular at fairs of former years.

This year's diaper derby will be held on the Playhouse Stage at 1:30 p.m., on September 17. All babies competing must have been pre-registered in the event. Deadline for entering is 5 p.m. on September 11.

Entry blanks for the diaper derby are available now at the administration office at the fairgrounds. A telephoned request (724-5671) is all that's necessary to have the official entry blank dropped in the mail. The completed blank may be reutrned by mail prior to the 5 p.m. deadline on September 11.

There are prizes for the winning boy and the winning girl in the derby, with a sweepstakes prize for the onver-all champion.

Rules are simple. Babies must be less than one year old on the day of the contest. Any baby who gets up and walks to the finish line is disqualified. The derby is a creepers only event.

HEAD START

Actress Susan Saint James has lost 30 pounds in the past year. "If the baggy look in clothes ever catches on," she says, "I've got a whole closet full as starters."

GOING FAST

If the current rate of killing goes on, in aout 30 years it is feared that all of the 4,062 species of mammals still on earth will disappear entirely.

Early Deer Season Closes On Sunday

The closing date for California's early deer season is just around the corner, the Department of Fish and Game reminded hunters today. Sunday, September 13, is the last day deer can be taken in the coastal area.

Late seasons in other parts of the state open September 26.

Most areas of the coastal deer season report hunting pressure is off somewhat, but the ratio of deer taken to hunters is up from last year.

POSSESSES HEALTH VALUES

Beer is high in nutritire and health values necessary to a balanced diet, according to a Yale University study. Break-down of the properties of beer shows that it contains 85% natural liquids, 4% carbohydrates, .35% proteins, .20% minerals, .15% natural substances that produce taste, and 3.6% alcohol that produces energy.

Population Explosion Is Topic

Dr. Lowell Adams will speak on "Peninsula Population Explosion - Checks and Balances" Friday, September 18, at 8 p.m. in Lecture-Forum 103.

His lecture, open to the public without charge, will be cosponsored by the United Nations Association of the Monterey Peninsula and MPC's community services office.

Dr. Adams, a scientist who instructs an evening class in human ecology at MPC, has been a staff member at the University of California Medical Center, San Francisco, for the past ten years. For some time he has been doing research locally on crowding and stress among populations of social animals. He is co-founder, with geologist Paul Patchick, of Environmental Resources Associates, an organization concerned with water resources and wate reclamation; and he is an active member of AMPere. Recently, he has invited by the World Health Organization of the UN to report on his work at a December conference.

'Insurance Facts' Is Yours For the Asking

Rampages by man and the forces of nature wreaked colossal destruction in the destruction in the United States in 1969.

Civil disorders, catastrophic windstorms and record losses from crimes, fires and auto accidents, helped push underwriting losses of the nation's property and liability insurance companies to nearly $500 million.

Statistics on natural and man-made disasters in 1969 are contained in the 10th annual edition of "Insurance Facts," a publication of the Insurance Information Institute.

Single copies of the 80-page booklet are free for the asking. The institute's address is 110 William Street, New York NY 10038.

Reference to the Institute's source book provides a statistical picture of spiraling crime rates and slaughter on the nation's highways.

A feature of interest in this year's "Insurance Facts" contains the eye-opening results of the 1970 auto crash tests conducted by the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety. An accompanying chart shows the estimated dollar damage to autos involved in front and rear-end low-speed crashes.

A total of 21 catastrophes --each involving insured damage of more than $1 million -- are included in the chronicle of losses for the year.

In a review of other important developments in 1969, the booklet contains these interesting facts:

*Riots and civil disorders in 1969 caused an estimated $31.3 million in insured damage in more than 120 cities and communities across the nation.

*Crimes involving property outraced all previous years, plaguing insurers with more frequent and costly claims. During the year, auto thefts rose 12.1 per cent over 1968, robbery was up 13.7 per cent, burglary 6.6 per cent and larceny 19.0 per cent.

*Insurers continued to suffer from the effects of auto accidents, which in 1969 left 56,400 persons dead and more than 5 million injured. Economic losses resulting from traffic crashes jumped from $14.25 billion in 1968 to last year's record $16.5 billion.

*Inflation conspired as a villain in the fire loss story Although the number of recorded fires declined slightly, dollar losses rose from $1.8 billion in 1968 to more than 1.95 billion last year.

In a review of the year's insurance-related developments, "Insurance Facts" cites the availability of flood insurance for the first time as one of the significant milestones of 1969. Areas of the country qualifying for flood insurance passed the 150 mark by mid-1970 due to the cooperative efforts of the federal government and insurers.

The yearbook notes that a number of states took action to liberalize eligibility requirements for automobile assigned risk plans and to expand coverage under those plans.

In addition, the problem of protecting the public against insurance company insolvencies received attention from the insurance business and from federal and state governments.

"Insurance Facts" points out that all but two states now require that insurers offer with every auto liability policy "uninsured motorist" coverage.

Jazz Event To Present 'Slim-Slam'

"Slim and Slam," the musical designation recognized by jazz fans for the indefatigable duo Slim Gaillard and Slam Stewart, will be reunited after many years at the Thirteenth Annual Monterey Jazz Festival September 18, 19, 20.

The two---Slim on guitar and vocals, Slam on bass plus Milt Buckner on piano and Jo Jones and drums, will be featured in the concert Saturday evening, September 19.

Slim Gaillard will also be remembered as the man who added such colorful expressions as "macvouty" and "orooney" to the jazz lexicon. He memorialized these and other sometimes unfathomable expressions in his "Be-Bop Dictonary" published in the forties.

Slim Gaillard and Slam Stewart formed their famous duo in 1938 and were an enormously popular attraction for a number of years.

Slam Stewart is known for augmenting contra bass artistry with a vocal hum which he sings softly in sequence to his plucked bass. After Gaillard joined the Army in the mid-forties, Stewart toured with the Art Tatum Trio and the Benny Goodman Band. In the late 40's he formed his own trio with Billy Taylor and Johnny Collins.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) I'm hoping to get a part-time job after school this fall. Is it true there's a form I can fill out to stop taxes from being taken out of my pay?

A) Yes, you may avoid having Federal income tax withheld from your pay if certain conditions are met and you give your employer a Form W-4E. Social Security taxes will continue to be withheld, however.

To avoid Federal income tax withholding you must have had no tax liability last year and expect none this year. Under the new tax law, you can earn up to $1,725 before you will owe any tax.

If you meet these conditions, ask your employer for a Form W-4E. It will authorize him to stop Federal income tax withholding on your wages.

Q) Are you allowed any credit or deduction for foreign income taxes paid while working overseas?

A) Yes, you may either list the foreign income taxes paid with your other tax deductions or take a credit for such taxes paid. For details, obtain a free copy of Publication 514, Foreign Tax Credit for U. S. Citizens and Resident Aliens, by sending a postcard to your IRS district office.

Q) I just got a letter from the local IRS office asking me to bring in my records on deductions. Can the fellow I got to prepare my return come with me?

A) Yes, you may have the person who prepared your return come with you for the audit interview. Remember, however, that you are responsible for the accuracy of all items on the return.

Cancelled checks, receipts and similar records are most helpful in establishing the nature, date and amount of the expense claimed. Taxpayers who keep adequate records have little trouble when their return is examined.

Q) After my father died, my sister and I began supporting our mother. Can we both claim her as our dependent?

A) No, the dependency exemption for your mother cannot be claimed by both you and your sister. However, if either of you provided more than one-half your mother's total support and the other dependency tests are met, then that person can claim the exemption. Also, when two or more persons contribute more than half of the total support of a dependent, one of them who individually contributes more than 10% of it may claim the exemption if the other dependency tests are met. However, each of the other persons must file a written statement that he will not claim the exemption for that year.

Q) I sold some trees on property I own to a lumber company. How do I handle this on my tax return?

A) Such a sale is usually reported as a capital gain or loss. For details on how to handle this on your tax return, send a post card to your IRS district director and ask for a free copy of Publication 544, Sales and Exchanges of Assets.

The Department of Agriculture also has a publication on this subject. It is Handbook No. 274, "The Timber Owner and his Federal Income Tax." It is available from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., 20402, for 35¢ a copy.

Public Alerted to Dangers of Heroin

Two doctors at the Haight-Ashbury Medical Clinic in San Francisco said that heroin addiction has reached "a crisis of epidemic proportions" locally.

Dr. David E. Smith, and Dr. George Gay, chief of the clinic's heroin detoxification program, said five to 10 heroin users showed up at the clinic a year ago. Present number is 50 "addicts and abusers" daily. San Francisco was believed to have 500 heroin addicts five years ago; the number today is estimated as ranging between 2,000 and 9,000.

Heroin overdoses caused the greatest number of adolescent deaths in New York City last year, taking 924 lives, Dr Smith said. During the first six months of 1970, 24 persons died of overdoese in San Francisco--a 20 percent increase over last year.

Cities like New York and San Francisco set the trend, Dr. Smith pointed out, which means other cities and outlying areas will experience similar usage patterns within the next year or two.

"People are falling down dying in the street from overdoese," Dr. Smith said. "If it was the plague or cholera, the community would do something, but because it's heroin...they just wish it would go away."

More detailed information on heroin--what it is, who takes it and how, its physiological effects, and withdrawal--is available in a current Health Tip issued by the California Medical Association.

"Heroin, also called 'smack', 'H,' 'horse,' 'Mr. Jones' and a host of other colorful names, is one of the most dehumanizing and debilitating drugs known to man," according to CMA's Health Tip. Heroin originally was used as a cure for opium addiction, but when it was found to be addictive itself, its manufacture, distribution, use and possession were banned in the United States.

A bitter-tasting crystalline powder varying in color from white to brown, heroin may be inhaled or dissolved and injected beneath the skin or into a vein, using a hypodermic needle or eye-dropper.

Most heroin users develop a strong physiological as well as psychological dependence. The drug has a powerful depressant reaction on vital nervous centers in the brain and spinal cord, which accounts for its varied reactions.

The regular user becomes more disease-prone and constipated, usually loses his appetite and might become impotent. With an overdose, respiration is so depressed that the body has insufficient oxygen; the user falls into a coma and if not treated rapidly, dies.

These symptoms are bad enough, CMA points out, but "the greatest tragedy that befalls the heroin-dependent person is his total enslavement to the drug."

There are various avenues to withdrawal, according to the Health Tip. Quitting "cold turkey"--abruptly--in one, albeit difficult and painful. Professional drug rehabilitation centers, state hospitals and community mental health clinics offer safer ways to withdraw. One technique currently under investigation in California utilizes a synthetic narcotic called methadone, which satisfies the user's need for heroin, yet eliminates most of the debilitating social effects so often associated with drug dependence.

CMA points out that there are "occasion when a drug dependent person must be hospitalized against his will for his own, as well as society's protection...Nevertheless too many heroin users are regarded as criminals, not as troubled or sick people."

Concludes the CMA Health Tip, "Until we can see the heroin user in that light, the heroin-bound road will be traveled by too many one-way travelers."

Black Vet Gets Grant

Standard Oil (Indiana) Foundation, Inc., has made a grant of $7,000 to the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation for its Martin Luther King, Jr., Fellowships.

Raymond Richardson, director of the program, announced the grant, stating that the money will be used to provide a King Fellowship for Steven H. Pugh, Jr., to study law at Loyola University in Chicago. A Chicagoan by birth, Pugh has returned to that city after spending almost five years in the United States Air Force. He is currently assisting black community projects designed to relieve racial tension.

Initiated in 1968, the Martin Luther King program has awarded over 100 Fellowships to black veterans, providing them with two years of graduate study. A national committee selects the candidates, giving preference to applicants interested in careers of public service.

Pugh, who received his B.A. degree in philosophy from Loyola, is a graduate of the "Operation Bootstrap" program, sponsored by the Air Force. He decided upon a law career because he wants to be in the "mainstream of change in social relations."

More Time Is Given To Car Makers

Because of inaccurate government testing of tailpipe emissions auto manufacturers have been allowed two more years to meet the new, weakened version of the federal exhaust standards.

The tests, conducted by the National Air Pollution Control Administration, failed to measure half of the emitted pollutants. John T. Middleton, administrator for the government agency, while announcing the two year extension, promised improved testing of 1972 cars.

The government now certifies new cars as meeting emission limits of 2.2 grams of hydrocarbons and 23 grams of carbon monoxide per mile, but, according to Middleton, tests have proven that 4.6 grams of hydrocarbon and 47 grams of hydrogen monoxide are emitted.

He explained that despite the weaker exhaust standards, "the actual quantity of pollutants emitted by cars complying with the proposed 1972 regulations will be less than some 1970 cars that comply with current standards."

The tightened test procedures to go in effect in two years will include direct measurement of all emissions rather than the present system of partial measurement.

It Was 'No Prank'

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Youngstown, Ohio, has called on the Justice Department to investigate a fire which destroyed the home being built for a Negro family in nearby Liberty Township.

J. Ronald Pittman, former director of the Mayor's Human Relations Commission, joined NAACP General Counsel Nathaniel R. Jones in a telegram to Assistant U. S. Attorney General Jerris Leonard, chief of the department's civil righrs branch, asking for a full investigation.

The home under construction for Mr. and Mrs. Orsby Willingham was valued at $25,000. The nearby finished structure was destroyed by fire on a Saturday night.

opposition had been expressed to the Willinghams moving into the predominantly white neighborhood.

"Make no mistake about it," Jones said, "this was no mere childish prank. It has all thae earmarks of a crude attempt to intimidate the Qillingham family in order that bigots would accomplish by flame what they were unable to win through the courts."
